However, certain conditions can cause weight gain).

- To the best of our knowledge, this dog leaves us in good health, (or as advised, see below) and we recommend that it be registered with a vet as soon as possible.

It must be noted that dogs may fight and cause other problems to their owners and family with regards to the home to the public. Animal Action Rescue Trust cannot be held responsible for these situations once the adoption papers are signed or during home checks. Training courses are advised and can be booked with one of our trainers if preferred. It must be noted that the dogs are the responsibility of the adoptive family with regards to health and veterinary care after they are adopted, and no costs are redeemable to Animal Action Rescue Trust. Health insurance is advised. Adoption fees/deposits are not refundable once paid. This has been implemented to discourage ill thought out arrangements for our dogs who then suffer as a consequence. Behavioural visits can be made should they be required. The first visit for an assessment and advice is free.

NB. Failure to abide by these aforementioned stipulations deems the dog forfeit to this rescue centre. If a bitch is found to be pregnant, the pups will be forfeit and returned to our care.
